

I feel that it is my right to not have my phone called by solicitors. I do not pay for phone service so that I can be the target of a sales initiative. I have my telephone to answer welcomed calls from family and friends and to make inquiries for products and services that I'm interested in.